RANDOLPH

Guy Lamson and his son, Robert, are both ill with tonsillitis.
The body of George S. Howard, who died in San Diego, Cal., Oct. 26, arrived here Thursday for burial.

The Rochester club has voted to give a series of socials, the first of which is to be held before Thanksgiving.

Miss Jane Welch and her sister, Mrs.
Holden, have been guests of Mrs. Fred Wedgwood at Essex Junction this week.

Mrs. Jonas Sanders of Tunbridge was at W. W. Bean's over Sunday, where her husband met her and they returned by train.

Lester Watson, who is seriously ill at his home on Weston street, remains about the same with little or no improvement.

Mrs. Isabelle May has returned from the hospital in Waterbury, much improved in health, and is now with her mother, Mrs. Charles Belknap, on Forest street.

Mrs. Edna Stockwell of Rochester has been recently the guest of Mrs. Charles Stockwell for a few days, and Mrs.
Emily Stockwell is visiting at the same place for a week.

The persons from out of town who were here to attend the funeral of Lyman Rix were: Mrs. Lois Rix of Bethel Gilead and Mrs. Leslie Chamberlain of Bethel Gilead; Mrs. William Gifford of South Royalton; Mrs. Sadie Harvey of Rochester; and Mrs. Anna Gibson of Royalton; three brothers, Edwin L. and William Rix of Bethel and Mark Rix of Brookfield.

MARSHFIELD

An interesting meeting of The Grange held Saturday.

An interesting meeting of Pomona grange was held with Alberta grange of Marshfield on Saturday, about 150 grangers attending from the districts of East Montpelier, Plainfield, East Calais, Woodbury and Marshfield. All the granges were well represented, and the 5th degree was worked upon a class of 30 candidates at the morning session.
The afternoon session was open to the public and principal interest was felt in the addresses by Lieut. Gov. John A.
Mead of Rutland, on "The Needs of Vermont," and by State Highway Commissioner Charles W. Gates, on "Highway Improvements." Both speakers dwelt pointedly upon the necessity of good roads for the furtherance of the business and commercial enterprises of the state, as well as to attract tourist travel, and Lieut. Gov. Mead dwelt upon the necessity for "talking up" Vermont and not running it down among ourselves or to other people. The grangers intended to serve luncheon to the visitors in the hall that was burned on Saturday morning and were thrown into some confusion by the confagration, but succeeded in cordially entertaining the guests despite the loss of their grange room.

A healthy man is a king in his own

Forced into Exile.

Wm. Upchurch of Glen Oak, Okla., was an exile from home. Mountain air, he thought, would cure a frightful lung racking cough that had defied all remedies for two years. After six months he returned, death dogging his steps. "Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovey," he writes, "and after taking six bottles I am as well as ever." It saves thousands yearly from desperate lung diseases. Infallible for coughs and colds, it dispels hoarseness and sore throat, cures grip, bronchitis, hemorrhages, asthma, croup, whooping cough. 50c and $1.00, trial bottle free, guaranteed by Red Cross Pharmacy.

Why He Cried.
"Why are you crying, Johnny?"
"We was playing train and I was the engine."
"Yes!"
"And pa comed in and switched me."

CHALLENGE FROM D. F. DAVIS

D. F. Davis is seeking the worst case of dyspepsia or constipation in Barre or vicinity, to test Dr. Howard's new specific for the cure of those diseases.
So confident is he that this remarkable medicine will effect a lasting cure in a short time, that he offers to refund the money should it not be successful.
In order to secure the quickest possible introduction D. F. Davis will sell a regular fifty-cent package of this medicine at half price, 25 cents.

This specific of Dr. Howard's will cure sick headache, diary feelings, constipation, dyspepsia and all forms of malaria and liver trouble. It does not simply give relief for a time; it makes permanent and complete cures.

It will regulate the bowels, tone up the whole intestinal tract, give you an appetite, make food taste good and digest well, and increase vigor.

MONTPELIER

Prominent Business Man of Noted Ancestry Passes Away.

William Otis Standish of this city died Saturday morning after a few days' illness, following a shock sustained the Tuesday before. He was one of the most prominent business men of the city and was born in Westville, N. Y., May 18, 1841. At the age of 18 years he came to Montpelier and was employed by Keith & Peck. Four years later he became a partner of Carlos Smith in the meat business. After a few years the partnership was dissolved, but Mr.
Standish returned to it again after two years' absence in Springfield, Mass.
He had an ancestry of which to be proud, his forefathers being of old Puritan stock. He was an eighth lineal descendant of Captain Myles Standish and Priscilla Alden. Funeral services were held from his late home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. Edward Wright officiating, with interment in Green Mount cemetery.

A daughter was born Sunday morning to Dr. and Mrs. Percy L. Templeton.

A short and exciting runaway took place Saturday, when a horse, owned by C. D. Whitcomb, ran away and pulled his driver through a barbed wire fence. The horse was stopped before serious damage was done.

A feature of the hand fair Saturday evening was a tent drill given by members of Co. H. They gave an exhibition of tent life from dawn of day till nightfall. An attractive program is scheduled for the fair every evening this week.

M. H. S. and Burlington H. S. meet to-morrow at 3:15 on the seminary campus in this city for the last foot game of the season. It is the second meeting of the two teams and will be the hardest fought contest seen in Montpelier this fall.

A horse driven by Ralph Hughes ran away Saturday evening while it was being hitched and roamed around the streets for half an hour before it was stopped. No one seemed to know to whom the animal belonged, and it was taken to the police station. Officer Mc-Avoy recognized the horse as one belonging to Mr. Hughes and it was taken home.

A corporation called the Wantastiquet hotel, formed to erect and maintain a house of public entertainment in Brat-tlesboro, has filed articles of association in the secretary of state's office, with a capital stock of $250,000. The incorporators are Kittredge Haskins, Dennis Cowles, W. H. Vinton, M. J. Moran, C. I.
Stokney, L. E. Holden, G. E. Dunham, all of Brattleboro.

State Highway Commissioner Charles W. Gates of Franklin and County Road Superintendent R. S. Currier of Barre were in this city Saturday. Mr. Gates made the trip by automobile, inspecting the highways which have been or are to be improved. Road work will be begun next year as soon as frost is out of the ground. Mr. Gates was one of the speakers at the Pomona grange meeting held in Marshfield.

ORANGE

Engene Tillotson was in the city Thursday.

Harry Crockett is driving team for C.
S. Carpenter.

Mrs. E. L. Clark and daughter, Daisy, were in Barre Thursday.

William Fowler of Topham is at work for Clark & Pease.

Mrs. Mary Cave of Barre City is visiting her father, O. Y. Barnes.

Ben Chalmers and Harry Brock are cutting timber on Wheeler hill.

Clark & Pease are repairing their mill and putting in machinery.

Ninety-five hunting licenses have been granted in town to residents to November 1st.

There will be a dance at town hall Saturday evening, November 6th. Everybody invited.

Mrs. Nathan Burroughs of Corinth is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Crockett.

Eugene Whitcomb and family, who have been visiting at Julian Estes, returned home Monday.

Free Alcohol's Handicap.

In the fullness of time the people of this country will probably become adjusted to the manufacture and profitable use of free denatured alcohol, though thus far their progress toward that desired industrial goal has been regrettably slow. The Minneapolis Farm, Stock and Home, an agricultural paper, challenges a statement going the rounds of the press that farmers show no disposition to buy stills and that the law is a failure.
It declares that farmers in that section have been not only willing but eager to buy stills and for three years have been importing manufacturers to supply their needs, either for farm or co-operative neighborhood purposes. But one reason why cheap stills have not been made has been a twenty-dollar tax, under an old revenue law, on every still or worm sold. This does not amount to much on the large and high priced stills, but interferes with the profitable manufacture of those under a hundred dollars.
Professor Snyder of the Minnesota school of agriculture has found that beets as an ordinary root crop, grown at a 100 or five or six dollars, and yielding at a conservative estimate fifteen tons to the acre, would make three hundred gallons of alcohol, which at ten cents a gallon would be a good return on the land.
Soft corn, damaged wheat, windfall apples and other waste products of the farm would also possess a value that is now lacking. "In no country can it be made cheaper than in this one, and in no other country should it be so extensively used," says the journal from which we have quoted.—Boston Trans-script.

Plain Gasoline.

Once upon a midday dreary,
As I wandered weak and weary Down the lane,
I was suddenly sent reeling
By a subtle something stealing O'er my brain.

And methought the air grew denser,
"Tis none from an unseen conser," Murmured I.
I was wrong. That odor evil Floated from a big red devil Going by.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

The Great American Play, "Paid in Full," Tuesday Night.

Among the many distinctive features of Eugene Walter's "Paid in Full" that make it the exceptional play of the time, is the character of the hero, who is anything but heroic. That is to say, the leading man, who is usually hero in a play, is really the villain in "Paid in Full." Heroism is not lacking in "Paid in Full." Men and women possess that quality, but there is not a spark of it in the leading man. He is Joe Brooks, an $18 a week clerk, who, in resentment at not being advanced in business, steals from his employer. When he is found out he tries to shift the blame on his young wife and to sacrifice her to gain immunity from punishment. There have been many plays in which the leading man has shown a bad streak at one time or another, though in the end he has redeemed himself by proving of the right sort. Not so Joe Brooks. He carries viciousness and cowardliness to the very finch, unrelieved by one glimpse of heroism, unless it be when, face to face with his employer, Capt. Williams, he openly and strongly expresses his opinion of him and of his methods. Certain analysts, though, have seen a vein of generosity in Brooks. No character in contemporary drama has been so widely discussed as this one. He is of a type common to every American city, and it is to Mr. Walter's credit as a playwright that he has pictured this character with a fidelity that has caused many essays to be written on conditions that produce Joe Brooks. In fact, "Paid in Full" has attracted a greater degree of attention from those who view the stage as a vital factor in modern life and recognize its value as an instructive as well as an entertaining institution than any play that has attempted to portray existing conditions.

That it has served a great end and attained unprecedented popularity in the process is convincingly demonstrated by its career. More persons have seen "Paid in Full," more companies have played it than any other piece in theatrical history. The Waggoner & Kemper company is maintaining this season the five companies that played "Paid in Full" all last season, each of which has to its credit a New York engagement, and one of which will be at the opera house, Tuesday, Nov. 9.

"Polly of the Circus."

With Miss Edith Talliaferro in the role of Polly, Frederic Thompson's production of "Polly of the Circus" comes to the opera house next Friday, Nov. 12.
She will be accompanied by all of the important members of the original "Polly of the Circus" company, the majority of whom have been associated with this successful offering since its initial presentation at the Liberty theatre in New York, two years ago. Her appearance in the character of the heroine of Margaret Mayo's sawdust ring romance marks little Miss Talliaferro's first appearance as leading woman in a "grown-up" part. A series of brilliant triumphs in a roster of difficult child parts indicates that it will be as much of a success as all of her admirers could expect. To a naturally great histrionic talent inherited from a long line of brilliant actors of the Talliaferro family, the young woman brings to this particular part an unusual amount of sympathetic congeniality. Those who have seen Miss Talliaferro as "Polly" admit the justice of the belief that the part might have been created with her solely in mind for its portrayal.

It is doubtful if the fascination of the tan hair, sawdust ring and canvas tent ever wholly leaves anyone who has once felt it. Hence the realistic reproduction of the big ring show, which is the feature of the third act of "Polly of the Circus" will doubtless prove as much of an attraction to audiences upon this occasion as it ever has in the past.
This scene will always be considered one of the most remarkable achievements of Frederic Thompson's career as a producer of perfect stage illusions.

"Paid in Full" at Barre Opera House Tuesday Evening.

"The great American drama" is the title that has been bestowed by many leading dramatic writers on Eugene Walter's "Paid in Full." It is a great drama. It has set new standards for the stage, not alone in this country, but in England. Its directness and naturalness, its human interest, its portrayal of real life and real men and women, make "Paid in Full" an exceptionally attractive play for persons of every taste and fancy. As to its popularity, there is no question. That point is settled by the fact that more than 2,500,000 persons have seen it. As to the title "great American drama" that has been bestowed upon it so freely, it is warranted by the play's career. Popular as it is in New York, where it ran for two years, and in Chicago, where it ran for six months, it is no less a favorite in every part of the United States. It is as genuinely enjoyed in New England, in the South, in the Middle West and on the Pacific coast as in New York and Chicago. It has created as great enthusiasm in one locality as another.
This season, as all last season, five companies are playing "Paid in Full" throughout the country with growing favor.
It is the most popular play of the age. At the opera house to-morrow night, Nov. 9.

Floors and doors and woodwork are hard to clean thoroughly because the dirt gets ground into every crack and crevice.

Soap and mop all you will, the job at best will be only partly done.

A heaping tablespoonful of GOLD DUST added to your scrubbing water will make it search out dirt, grease, germs and impurities from every cranny, and cleanse and purify wherever it touches.

GOLD DUST also relieves you of that weary, torturing grind of bend-
